Village Property Maintenance Inspectors protect you and your property by enforcing the Village's building codes and housing ordinances, the local laws intended to ensure any work on your property meets the latest standards for safety. Inspectors also monitor residential and commercial buildings throughout the community to identify conditions that could pose a danger.

The Village is divided into five distinct zones for property maintenance inspections. Get to know your local inspector. Do not hesitate to call or e-mail them - or me - with any questions or concerns you may have.

Sincerely,

John Ross, Chief Property Inspector
