Village Board Creates New Forum to Talk With Residents

The Village Board will host the first of what is expected to be an ongoing series of quarterly open dialogues with community residents beginning Wed., May 12. Future sessions are tentatively scheduled this year for July 28 and October 26, and next year on January 26. All sessions will be held from 7 – 10 p.m., at Village Hall, 123 Madison St.

The format will be relatively informal to encourage interaction among residents and Board members. Topics will be considered on a first-raised, first-addressed basis, with discussion limited to 45 minutes each to ensure sufficient time to address at least four topics per session.

Sessions will be televised live on VOP-TV6, the government access television station available to cable subscribers on channel 6.

The technical feasibility of allowing residents to ask questions via telephone also is being investigated for later sessions.
