2007 Universal Access Expo to focus on recreation

Representatives from local organizations and businesses that specialize in recreational options for children and adults with disabilities will be featured at the 2007 Universal Access Expo, scheduled for 10 a.m. – 4 p.m., Sat., Oct. 13, in the Oak Park Public Library, 834 Lake St.

Accessible recreation activities for people with disabilities will be theme of this year's expo sponsored by the Village's Universal Access Commission and hosted by Oak Park Public Library.

The expo will feature a film festival showcasing a number of short documentaries highlighting the achievements of people with a variety of disabilities. Sign language interpreters will on hand.

A book review and discussion of the book Running with Walker is scheduled for 7 p.m., Thurs., Oct 11, at the library as a prelude to the expo.

For more information, or to request specific accommodations, contact the library representative at 708.386.9032 or 708.848.4137.

Information on the expo and Universal Access Commission is available by calling 708.358.5430 or e-mailing building@oak-park.us.
