Police Charge Driver in Fatal Crash

Oak Park Police on Tuesday charged Edgar Torres, 28, of 2320 N. Mobile, Chicago, with Reckless Homicide and Aggravated DUI, in the death of Ann Monaco, 57, of Oak Park.

Torres was the driver of a 1989 full-size Chevrolet van that struck and killed Monaco as she was jogging in the street in the 1000 block of north East Avenue in Oak Park early Sunday morning.

Police were unable to identify Monaco until late Sunday night when a family member and a friend who could not locate her contacted West Suburban Hospital, which contacted the police and led to a positive identification of Monaco.

The Oak Park Police Department urges all joggers to carry some form of identification so that authorities will know who to contact in the event of an emergency.
