

Police, citizen partnership leads to record low crime in 2014

Oak Park's 2014 crime rate was the lowest in the 42 years since comparable information has been collected, according to data compiled under the state's Uniform Crime Reporting Index by the Police Department.

Police investigated 1,665 crimes in the Village in 2014, down 7 percent from the 1,798 crimes reported in 2013 and far below Oak Park's crime rates in the 1980s and 1990s that often were nearly double that of the last few years. Property crimes — thefts and burglaries — represented nearly 90 percent of all 2014 crime, a statistic that has remained virtually unchanged for many years.

Officials say the 2014 crime statistics reflect the collaboration of dedicated police officers and an active, engaged citizenry. They credit Oak Park's focus on policing at the neighborhood level for creating an effective crime-fighting partnership that relies on the community's support and active involvement with the law enforcement professionals who work to make the community safe.

Acknowledging that Oak Park data likely reflects the overall decline in crime nationally, Police Chief Rick C. Tanksley said he firmly believes that the combination of an engaged citizenry and professional, dedicated officers set Oak Park apart from other communities and has played a significant role in the declining local crime rate.

In addition, he said the use of crime data analysis to identify and strategically address emerging trends has led to quick police response times to calls for service and solving crimes at rates above the national average.

The data show that burglaries and thefts of property continued to represent the vast majority of all crimes committed in Oak Park in 2014. These two categories alone comprised nearly 90 percent of all 2014 crimes, with garages as burglars' most frequent targets, police say.

The 83 robberies reported in 2014 — down from the 85 reported in 2013 and 99 in 2012 — were the lowest number of robberies since 1972, the earliest year for which comparable data are available.

Arrests also were down in 2014, according to the data, likely reflecting the decline in the overall crime rate. Police made 155 arrests in 2014 compared to 224 in 2013. Nearly three quarters of the arrests were for burglaries, thefts and assaults.

The fact that the overall rate is at its lowest level in years really doesn't mean a lot to a victim of a crime, according to the Police Chief who said that's why the department continually strives to help residents feel safe by providing them the information they need to play a vital role in our crime-fighting initiatives.

2014 By the Numbers: A look at municipal service delivery

With only 4.5 square miles and 52,000 residents, many would say Oak Park is a small town. But the municipal services that make our community such a great place to live, work and do business are anything but small.

Oak Park has more than 100 miles of Village-owned streets, nearly 20,000 parkway trees, 7,000 lighting fixtures, 105 miles of water mains and some 4,000 public parking spaces.

Services are delivered by a workforce of about 350 full-time workers who bring a wide range of formal education, experience and expertise to their jobs.

From a highly trained and motivated police force focused on neighborhoods to firefighter-paramedics who routinely eclipse national emergency response times, Oak Park's public safety programs rival those of much larger communities.

The Village's public works programs are the core of municipal services. They pump the water, maintain the streets, plow the snow, keep the traffic signals operating, trim the trees and keep a fleet of nearly 250 vehicles running smoothly.

Other municipal services nurture business investment, foster diversity, plan for future development, manage thousands of parking spaces, protect public health and preserve the historic housing stock, one of Oak Park's most valuable assets.

Though employees are assigned to different departments, and the jobs performed vary, all have the common mission of serving the many needs of the residents of Oak Park. Their efforts are coordinated through a central management system. So how did they do in 2014? Here's snapshot of some of their activities from the year just ended...

Crime Data Summary

- Thefts of property, typically crimes of opportunity, were the single largest category. Some 1,088 thefts were reported in 2014, compared to 1,148 in 2013, a decrease of 5 percent.
- Burglary to property continued to be the second largest single crime category, with 395 cases reported in 2014, compared to 460 in 2013. In more than a third of the residential burglaries and nearly two-thirds of the garage burglaries entry was via an unlocked door or window.
- Robberies continued a trend evident over the past several years. Police investigated 83 robberies in 2014, compared to 85 in 2013, 99 in 2012 and 106 in 2011.
- No murders occurred in 2014. The last time a murder occurred here was in 2011.
- Five criminal sexual assaults were reported in 2014, the same as in 2013. In all five cases the offender was known to the victim, but there was insufficient evidence to prosecute the suspected offenders.
- The 15 reports of aggravated assault/battery cases in 2014 was a 58 percent decline from the 36 cases investigated in 2013. In the majority of these cases, victims knew their offenders and were reluctant to prosecute.
- Four arsons were reported in 2014, down from five in 2013. One suspect was connected to two of the incidents.
- Reports of 75 motor vehicle thefts were investigated in 2014, up from the 59 in 2013. Police attributed the increase to an area-wide organized effort that targeted minivans. Related arrests were made in Chicago, Forest Park and Oak Park.
- Police responded to 32,651 calls for service in 2014, compared to 33,155 in 2013. The average response time in 2014 was three minutes and 39 seconds for high priority calls; four minutes and 42 seconds for medium-priority calls such as accidents with no injuries; and six minutes and 20 seconds for low-priority calls.

Block party application cycle begins

Applications for block parties are now being accepted. Some weekends fill quickly so events should be planned early to ensure preferred dates. Block party information and an application packet are posted online at www.oak-park.us/forms. Call 708.358.5700 for details.

Planning a block party? Know the rules

- Use a north-south block. Due to public safety and traffic considerations, block parties are not allowed on east-west streets.
- Make sure emergency vehicles can get through if needed. Tables, chairs or other items should not project more than six feet from the curb. And don't park cars, stretch wires, ropes, nets, lights, banners or other items across the street.
- Supervise children at all times. Even though the street may be closed, accidents can happen.
- Do not plan a party for an alley. Alleys provide important access for utility companies and other services.
- Keep sidewalks clear. Sidewalks are public ways that may not be obstructed even during a block party.
- If alcohol is present, keep it on private property. Alcohol may not be sold.

Carbon monoxide detectors save lives

An investment of about $30 for a detector can be the difference in life and death when it comes to deadly carbon monoxide, an odorless and tasteless gas that can leak into one's home from a malfunctioning gas appliance, such as a furnace or water heater. Because it is impossible to see, taste or smell the toxic fumes, CO can kill before you are aware it is in your home. That's why state law requires homeowners and landlords to install carbon monoxide detectors within 15 feet of every room used for sleeping. Alarms can be battery powered, plug-in with battery backup or wired into the AC power line with a secondary battery backup. The alarm can be combined with a smoke detector if the unit complies with established standards and the alarm differentiates the hazard. The property owner must supply and install all required alarms. Landlords must ensure that alarms are operable on the date a lease is initiated. While tenants are responsible for testing and maintaining the alarm after the lease commences, landlords must provide written instructions. Carbon monoxide detectors are not substitutes for smoke detectors, fire officials caution, so both devices are essential. For more information, call 708.445.3300 or email fire@oak-park.us.

Plan for parking when it snows

Residents who rely on on-street parking are urged to monitor local forecasts and plan accordingly when snow is predicted. The Village has specific rules that govern parking when it snows to ensure streets can be properly plowed. When a snow emergency is declared, all parking is prohibited on the main streets posted as snow routes. Parking on other streets is restricted to one side from 8 a.m. until 10 p.m. in residential areas and from midnight to 8 a.m. in designated commercial districts, the side determined by the odd/even date. To find out if snow-related parking restrictions are in effect, call 708.358.7669 for a recorded message. Cable television subscribers can tune into VOP-TV, broadcast on Comcast channel 6 and AT&T channel 99. The snow emergency parking rules are posted at www.oak-park.us/snow.

Sidewalk shoveling required... Village ordinance requires snow and ice to be removed from the public sidewalk within 24 hours following any snow, sleet or freezing rain. Being a good neighbor is important, too, so property owners are urged to assist those who may need help clearing a sidewalk. For more information call 708.358.5700 or email publicworks@oak-park.us.
